Course Requirements

The aim of the doctoral program is to afford instruction and guidance leading to the mastery of a major field. Specific course requirements for Applied Linguistics or Spanish are stipulated by the student's advisory committee. In certain instances, a student may be required to take courses in a minor field. For students required to take a minor, a specific program will be formulated. To fulfill the degree credit requirement, the student must (a) have completed (54 hours) of study beyond the M.A.; (b) have completed a minimum of two years (36 hours) of graduate study at the University of Mississippi; and (c) have completed a minimum of one year (18 hours) of graduate work in continuous residence. Where coursework (excluding dissertation hours) is required for the degree, at least one-half, up to 30 hours, must be completed at the University of Mississippi. Separate descriptions of requirements follow because courses are taught in the language of emphasis.

Specific Requirements for the Emphasis in Applied Linguistics:

1. Proficiency in a second language: Native speakers of English will demonstrate reading knowledge proficiency through advanced coursework or an agreed-upon assessment before advancing to comprehensive exams. Non-native speakers will have met this requirement by the TOEFL score. Before advancing to comprehensive exams, students must demonstrate reading proficiency in two languages other than English through advanced coursework or an agreed-upon assessment.
2. Core required courses (may be replaced by another course with permission of the DGS,) if equivalent was taken at MA level):
  - introduction to linguistics (LING 600 or 615)
  - classroom research and practice (TESL 672)
  - one core theoretical course in Phonology (LING 612), Morphology (LING 614) or Syntax (LING 616)
  - one core applied course in Sociolinguistics (LING 620), Teaching ESL (TESL 672), Cultural Dimensions of SLA (TESL 649), Seminar in SLA (TESL 695) or Descriptive Grammar (LING 501)
  - two pro-seminar courses (LING 701 and LING 702)
  - Research Methods (TESL 694)
  - one 700-level research seminar (LING 721 or 722)
  - An optional subfield (6-12 hours), subject to departmental approval.
3. Students will take the comprehensive exam after they have completed all core course requirements, submitted a term paper from a graduate class, and met proficiency in a second language: The written exam consists of two parts, taken one week apart, or up to a semester apart. Part 1 is a two-day exam (cloistered), answering questions based on the Ph.D. reading list. Part 2 is a take-home question based on the student's research interest. The student has one week to answer the question, and the answer (usually 40-50 pages) counts as the student's dissertation proposal/prospectus. A one-hour defense for each part may be taken at the same time, or as two separate defenses if Parts 1 and 2 are taken in different semesters.
